#Ecsite2016 - Thursday 9 June: Conference day 1

1,000 science engagement professionals are now gathered in Graz, Austria. The main conference kicks in today, with up to seven workshops, panels and hands-on activities taking place in parallel and a glamorous Gala Ball to look forward to tonight.

We are being hosted by the Austrian-wide ScienceCentre-Network, the Graz children's museum FRida & freD and Universalmuseum Joanneum.

Large crowds are converging towards the Messe convention centre

The doors are open! We're looking forward to a great first day #ecsitem2016

Hm... a little too busy discussing to tweet :-)

Science capital put into practice

Exploring the practical ways in which informal science learning providers are using the concept of science capital to understand how to reach under-served audiences.

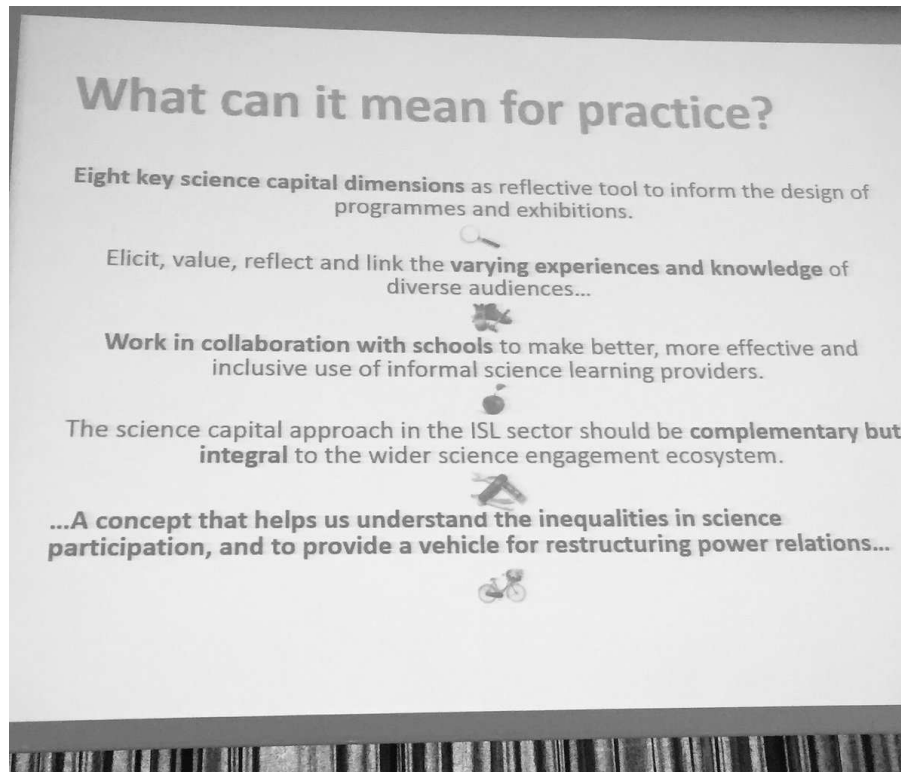

What is science capital

It considers all the science related knowledge, social contacts, attitudes, skills and experiences a person has and how they use those resources to their advantage in life.

It recognises the significance of what you know, how you think, what you do and who you know in shaping your relationship with science.
